

We use MainWP to update plugins and make bulk changes across multiple sites.

It's super useful for keeping track of everything in one place.

You can also try other tools like ManageWP, InfiniteWP, WPRemote, or WP Umbrella—though we haven't tested them extensively, so we can't say much about their performance.